Who May Vote

Section 8 of the By-Laws of the Conference provides as follows: "Any person may vote at any annual meeting of the National Conference of Social Work provided (1) that he is a member in good standing at the time of such meeting and (2) that he was a member in good standing at the last preceding annual meeting. However, if he was not in good standing at the time of such meeting by reason of non-payment of dues, then subsequent payment of such dues shall satisfy the requirements of this subsection."

"Any institutional member or any institution which is a contributing member as defined in Article I of these By-Laws may cast its vote at any annual meeting of the Conference by designating any member of its board or staff who shall appear personally to cast the said ballot."

The Official Ballot

The official ballot for the election of officers will be mailed to all members of the Conference who under the Constitution and By-Laws have either established their right to vote by the payment of current membership fees or can establish their right to vote by the payment of their membership fee prior to the close of the polls on May 24, 1934. Full instructions as to the use of the ballot together with a return envelope will be enclosed with the ballot when it is mailed from the Conference office just prior to April 1, 1934.

Program Plans for Kansas City

The Program Committee of the Conference in accordance with the instructions voted at the meeting in Detroit have made some significant changes in the organization of the program for the annual meeting at Kansas City. The Division Chairmen were invited to participate in the discussion of the Program Committee and for all practical purposes have been members of that Committee.

Meetings Organized by the Program Committee

After long and thorough discussion, the Program Committee (including the Division Chairmen) assumed full responsibility for all of the nine o'clock meetings during Conference week and have planned the programs as a more or less related series under the general title "Social Work and the New Deal."

On Monday, Tuesday and to some extent on Wednesday, the programs have been related to the relief emergency. As a common basis for the discussion in these meetings, a careful analytical statement of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration's policies, procedures, and results so far as they can be determined is being prepared. This statement will be printed in advance and included in the envelope received by every person who registers for the Conference. It will also be summarized at the first General Session on Sunday evening.

The Conference will be organized in from two to four groups at nine o'clock each morning of Conference week for the presentation and discussion of various phases of the general theme. The tentative schedule of topics is as follows:

Social Work and the New Deal Monday, May 21, 9:00 A. M.

The Administration of Emergency Relief (from the national point of view)

Group A—The Federal Emergency Relief Administration and Family Social Work Standards.

Group B—The Maintenance of Physical and Mental Health.

Group C—The Relative Responsibility of Local, State, and Federal Government.

Tuesday, May 22, 9:00 A. M.

The Administration of Emergency Relief (from the state and local points of view)

Group A—What is Adequate Relief?
(a panel discussion)

Group B—The Problems of Re-employment

Group C—The State Program of Relief

The City Program of Relief

The Rural Community Program of Relief

Wednesday, May 23, 9:00 A. M.

Some Current Problems

Group A—Special Relief Problems

1. The Negro

2. The Foreign Born

3. The Unattached Woman

Group B—The New Leisure

Group C—The Relative Responsibility of Public and Private Social Work

Group D—The Place and Function of Volunteers in Social Work

Friday, May 25, 9:00 A. M.

The Contribution of Social Work to Social Justice

Group A—What is Social Justice?

(in terms of the individual)

Group B—Social Insurance

Group C—Social Legislation

(other than social insurance)

Saturday, May 26, 9:00 A. M.

Planning for Social Security through Social Control

Group A—The Common Goals of Labor and Social Work

Group B—Adequate Medical and Health Care

The General Sessions

The General Sessions of the Conference have been planned to present subjects fundamental to the changing conditions in social work. Tentatively they are as follows:

Sunday, May 20, Presidential Address: The Place of the Social Worker in the New Deal.

Monday, May 21—The National Recovery Administration and its Implications for Social Work.

Tuesday, May 22—Taxation and its Relation to Social Work.

Friday, May 25—Population Trends; Their Implications for Social Work of the Future.

Saturday, May 26—Conference Luncheon—Social Work Marches On.

The Conference Dinner omitted last year will be held this year on Wednesday, May 23, and will be followed by the President's Reception.

The Division Meetings

The regular twelve Divisions of the Conference have by mutual agreement reduced their meetings from the usual five to three. These will all be held at eleven o'clock each morning. They have been so scheduled during the week that it will be possible for a person attending the annual meeting to participate in the meetings of several divisions without conflicting as much with the division of their primary interest as heretofore.

The Division Committees in preparing their programs have apparently found a happy medium between following up for more intimate discussion subjects presented at the nine o'clock meetings and the development of topics of particular importance to their own divisional fields.

The Associate and Special Groups

The Associate and Special Groups will have their meetings afternoons as heretofore. To a greater extent than usual their programs are being prepared in relation to the subject-matter presented at the morning meetings.

A change in the time schedule has been worked out where by the afternoon is divided into two parts beginning at 2:00 P. M. and again at 4:00 P. M. By a majority vote of the Associate Groups, all luncheon meetings will be held on Wednesday and dinner meetings on Thursday of Conference week. The luncheon and dinner hours on other days are left free. It is hoped that this arrangement will lessen the strain of Conference attendance.

The Preliminary Program

The April issue of the Conference Bulletin will contain the full preliminary program with all details and will be available about April 1.

Kansas City Is Ready

Under the direction of Mr. C. Whit Pfeiffer, Secretary, Kansas City Committee on Arrangements for the National Conference of Social Work, the usual sub-committees responsible for various local services have been organized. They have an unusually able committee organization this year which assures adequate entertainment for the annual meeting. Advance hotel reservations have already begun to come in and there is every indication of a good annual meeting.

Nominations for the Election of 1935

Under the Conference Constitution the Committee on Nominations of which Mrs. Blanche LaDu of St. Paul, Minn., is the Chairman will present to the Conference at Kansas City nominations for election at the annual meeting of 1935. This Committee will make its report at the General Session of the Conference, May 25. In the meantime it earnestly solicits suggestions for officers or for members of the Executive Committee from Conference members for the consideration of the Nominating Committee. The suggestions should be forwarded directly to Mrs. Blanche LaDu, Chairman, Committee on Nominations, National Conference of Social Work, State Board of Control, Department of Institutions and Agencies, State Office Building, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Publicity for the Kansas City Meeting

Last fall the Executive Committee of the Conference officially requested the Social Work Publicity Council to appoint a special committee to carefully study the various efforts of the Conference during the past few years for publicity incident to the annual meeting. The Committee under the Chairmanship of Mr. E. G. Routzahn has gone over the previous experience of the Conference and analyzed the successes and failures. Their report and recommendations were presented at the last meeting of the Executive Committee and approved. A modest appropriation was made by the Executive Committee to carry these recommendations into effect. We shall have the benefit of an Advisory Committee, consisting of Mary Swain Routzahn, Louise Bache, Gertrude Springer, Dwight Anderson, and E. G. Routzahn, Chairman.

The complete report is too long for publication in the Conference Bulletin. We wish, however, to quote one paragraph which is significant.

"The National Conference exists for the exchange of opinion; it is the market-place of social thought. Those social values which it proposes do not become actual values until they are widely distributed and accepted. It is as incongruous to limit publication of this information as it would be for the stock exchange to interfere with the publication of daily quotations. Such a market-place ceases to be a market-place for those who finally are to fix-values—the large public throughout the country, concerned in the subject matter, only a few of whom can be present at meeting."

Treasurer's Report

Your Treasurer submits, herewith, his annual report of the financial affairs of the National Conference of Social Work for the year January 1 to December 31, 1933. The Financial Statement shows total receipts of $32,453.88 and total expenditures of $29,470.65, leaving a cash balance on hand on December 31 of $2,983.23. To this we have added the guarantees from Kansas City and Montreal due and payable prior to December 31, 1933, but as yet unpaid, amounting to $1,175.00. We have been definitely assured that these payments will be made shortly. The only reason for their not being in the office prior to December 31 is some delay in securing the guaranteed institutional memberships from particular local agencies. With the addition of these unpaid guarantees we have total assets at the end of the year of $4,138.23. The only unpaid bill remaining from 1933 is that of the University of Chicago Press for the printing and distribution of the 1933 Proceedings amounting to a total of $4,047.55, leaving us a net balance at the end of the fiscal year of $110.68.

This happy result is due to the loyal support of Conference members, the generosity of some of our members in making special contributions, and the rigid economies including the reduction of salaries and staff maintained in the office. The reduction of salaries of the regular staff members as compared with the authorizations of the budget adopted a year ago amount to $2,062.58. The operating expenditures exceeded the revised budget by $696.98 but were $3,995.49 less than the budget adopted a year ago.

Conference Membership

We close the year with 3,857 members on our books of which 3,793 are paid up and 64 are from three to six months overdue. Most of this latter group if not all will renew within the next few weeks. It is also gratifying to note that the office is still receiving renewals of memberships which expired during the first half of the year and which so far as our books are concerned were not being carried as members of the Conference. The total membership at the end of the year showed a net loss of 516 members during the year or 11.3%. In the $3.00 class the loss was 12.6%, in the $5.00 class 11.5%, in the $10.00 or sustaining class 18.9% while in the $25.00 or institutional class the loss was but 3.8%. This small loss is due to the fact that the guaranteed institutional memberships have almost taken the place of the lost. Had the guaranteed new institutional memberships due from Kansas City and Montreal been received prior to December 31, the net loss in this class would have been twelve. It also speaks well for the loyalty of agency members who despite reduced budgets maintained their support of the Conference.

Budget for 1934

The Budget Statement has been prepared to give comparable figures covering the budget adopted a year ago, the budget as revised in March and again in October, and the actual receipts and expenditures that can be credited or charged to the operations for 1933. Against these figures are shown the proposed budget for 1934. In the proposed budget, salaries of the permanent members of the staff have been restored to the level of December 31, 1932. Due allowance has also been made for probable increased costs of printing and other items in the operation of the Conference.

Finally, your Treasurer wishes to remind the Executive Committee that the objectives announced and authorized by the Executive Committee in 1931 have been accomplished. The Conference now has a workable fiscal year. It has sound budgetary practice based on really comparable data and it has a balanced budget.

Respectfully submitted,

C. C. STILLMAN,
Treasurer.

INDEX, VOLUMES 1 TO 60, NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WORK PROCEEDINGS

The publication date of the new cumulative index for the first sixty volumes of the Proceedings of the National Conference of Social Work is June 1, 1934. The preparation of this new index has been going forward steadily during the past three years. Mrs. Bertha Freeman Hooper, for many years the Assistant Editor of the Proceedings, initiated the work and had practically completed the original citations prior to her last illness. The Conference was fortunate to secure the services of Alice P. Atkinson, formerly with the Widener Library of Harvard College and on the staff of several social and governmental research organizations, to complete the preparation of the cumulative index. Each of the sixty volumes of the Proceedings has been carefully checked and the citations arranged in a way which we believe will be most helpful to those who will use the new index. The volume will be printed and bound uniform with recent issues of the Proceedings.

In the preparation of the Index its varied use by libraries, teachers, social work executives, and social workers themselves have been borne in mind. It will be possible with the Index and succeeding volumes of the Proceedings to have easily accessible the printed material on any subject in the field of social work that is found in the Proceedings of the Conference. It is generally recognized that the Proceedings of the National Conference are the best single source of information concerning the development of social work, its changing philosophy and methodology, and many of the related interests and fields of endeavor. No social worker, interested in the development of social work and wishing to keep familiar with its background and current developments, can afford to be without the Index of the Proceedings. Even if the individual social worker does not possess in his own professional library a file of past volumes of the Proceedings, they are accessible in practically every good public library and in most university libraries. Many social agencies also have a file at least for the past decade or two as a part of the agency library.

A special low price has been made possible for Conference members if the Index is ordered in advance of publication and not later than May 1, 1934. A full statement and order blank are on the back cover of this issue of the Conference Bulletin. Incidentally, members of the Conference wishing to complete their files of the Proceedings may secure old copies so far as they are available at a special price of $1.15 each (postage paid). This offer holds good for all volumes up to and including 1930 so far as such volumes are still available either at the University of Chicago Press or in the Conference office.

Reorganization of the Program Structure

In accordance with the instructions of the Conference at its annual business session in Detroit last June, the Program Committee has been carefully studying the whole organization of the program at the annual meeting. Recommendations for a thorough-going reorganization of the Divisional set up have been discussed at length in several meetings of the Program Committee and presented, discussed, and approved at the last meeting of the Executive Committee. The full statement of the recommendations together with Constitutional amendments needed to put the recommendations into effect will be published in the next issue of the Bulletin. The plans for reorganization will come before the business session at Kansas City for action. Every member of the Conference should carefully study these recommendations and be prepared to participate in the discussion at Kansas City.

Congratulations To Our President

The National Conference of Social Work as well as social workers throughout the country feel great pride in the fact that Mayor La Guardia of New York City has appointed Mr. William Hodson, the President of the Conference, who formerly was Director of the Welfare Council of New York City, as the new Commissioner of Public Welfare. The appointment of a seasoned and experienced social worker as the administrative head of the largest single municipal welfare department in the United States is one of the most significant events of the year. The Conference extends its heartiest congratulations to Mayor La Guardia for his appointment and its best wishes and loyal support to Mr. Hodson, its President, in his new work.

The Annual Membership List

Beginning with this year the Conference has resumed its former practice of publishing the membership list annually. The list is issued as Section 2 of this Conference Bulletin and is dated as of December 31. This date coincides with the close of the fiscal year and will give us through succeeding years an adequate basis for comparing the growth of Conference membership nationally or in any given community.

Every precaution has been taken in the Conference office to make the list accurate. However, changes of address and affiliations occur without due notice being sent to the Conference office. If there are any errors please notify the office at once so that proper changes can be made in the Conference records. Additional copies of the membership list are available to Conference members at twenty-five cents.

Invitations for 1936

Several cities have already indicated their intention to invite the annual meeting of the National Conference for 1936. The 1935 annual meeting will be held in Montreal, Canada. Cities, wishing to invite the Conference for 1936, should secure from the Conference office the memorandum covering the requirements of the host city and a copy of the guarantee blank which must be presented to the Time and Place Committee when it meets in Kansas City.

Conference Membership

It is the financial support of Conference members that makes possible the National Conference and its service to social work. To the large group of Conference members who have continued their loyalty and support for the past few years of depression the Conference owes and recognizes a great debt of gratitude. However, there have been many members who under the pressure of the depression have allowed their memberships to lapse. This is an excellent time to renew. Also, there have been many new people come into the field of social work during the past few years particularly in relation to relief work. Conference members can render a real service to the Conference as well as to the individuals by urging such people to become members of the Conference. One of the first professional responsibilities of social workers is membership in and support of the National Conference of Social Work. Individual membership is $5.00 per year although if one does not wish the volume of the Proceedings, the fee is $3.00. This entitles the member to all the privileges of the Conference and the special privileges of reduced railway fare and so forth incident to the annual meeting. If every present member of the Conference would secure one new member from among their associates it would strengthen the financial position of the Conference so that it could render greatly increased service to the entire field of social work.

National Conference of Social Work Proceedings is now being prepared and will be published by The University of Chicago Press June 1, 1934. The authors of the INDEX are Bertha Freeman Hooper and Alice P. Atkinson.

The INDEX will make the Proceedings twice as usable and useful. The busy social worker concerned with administration, case work, and the preparation of professional papers and lectures will have ready access to the whole body of material recording the changing methodology and philosophy of social work through 60 years. No professional library can afford to be without this INDEX.
